1. Most on the client's mind (Up to Flags Page)

What's most on the client's mind: My life is a wreck, and it's not all my doing. My parents sometimes seem like they are going to kill each other. I'm angry about what I have to live with. I'm angry at my parents because I love them, but they are doing everything to ruin their lives and mine.

I met a counselor here at detention (Mrs. Bellina), and she has told me I should be honest with you about what is going on. My parents are a total mess.

2. This case (Up to Flags Page)

- a. What happened: Well, as far as what I've done, about 8 times in the last 2 months, I've run away. Basically, by not coming home after school (or getting off the bus at school and going to different people's homes instead of into the school). I've been angry and also afraid to be at home.

My mom is hooked on diet pills she gets over the counter and from at least 3 different doctors. My dad drinks almost a case of beer every night. They fight all the time, usually with my dad calling my mom things like "a fat pig" and my mom yelling at my dad for drinking all the time and having girlfriends.

They have hit each other many times, usually started by my mom but then my dad hurting her by squeezing her hands and arms while he yells at her. There's nothing on professional wrestling as bad as my parents. I was humiliated many times when people saw even a tiny part of this. But one time about 2 months ago when a friend saw some of this (my parents wouldn't stop even in front of her, and she's the mayor's daughter).

When it was over, my friend said something that made me feel terrible, but it also said a lot about this: "What a shitshow."

Then last week when my parents found out the house I was staying at and said they were coming for me, "AND LOOK OUT!" (their words), I sort of flipped. I was hiding at some friends' rented house. I went into the garage, I think because I didn't know how close my parents were, and I wanted to hide. I saw a large red can of gas (maybe a 5-gallon can that was almost full). I tipped it over, ran to the door, and threw a match in as I ran out.

My friends saw me do this, and I think they called the fire department. Anyway, the police found me where I'd run to (a 7-11 store about 6 blocks away).

So here I am, the problem.

- b. How fair the client considers the claims/charges: Completely fair. I did all this. My complaint isn't really with the charge. It's with my family.
- c. What the client thinks caused this: Anger. Desperation. Being afraid for my family but living with the messages "Nobody tells on the family"; "Our family solves its own problems"; "All families solve their own problems."
- d. Talked to police or anyone else about this?: Yes. I told my parents to fuck off. I told the police I was the one who did it and that I did it alone (which is the truth).
- e. Done this before?: No.
- f. Likely to do this again?: Yes. I don't think I'll set a fire or do anything like that again. But I'm done obeying rules at home. I'd rather stay here. I might skip school, run away, do whatever to not go along with my parents' program anymore.
- g. Feels how bad about anything he/she did in this case: Pretty bad. I don't know. I'm not sure what I was supposed to do.
- h. Client's thoughts on what should happen in this case: I don't know. I do know that if my parents weren't such a mess, I wouldn't be doing any of these things. I've been an A- student, a church member, and someone who's wanted to do well. I doubt anybody in our church or neighborhood could believe what's happened to me.
- i. Anything else the client wants counsel to know about the case?: Yes. I'd like someone to shine the light on my parents and make them get help. A divorce, counseling, drug and alcohol treatment, whatever. Maybe all of that. But so far, all I'm hearing is what I've done wrong.

3. Past arrests, cases, or legal troubles (Up to Flags Page)

- a. Any prior arrests or charges?: No.
- b. Other legal problems?: No.
- c. Wants counsel to know about anything else that could have led to legal troubles?: No.

Part B: Basic Profile

4. Client's life overall (Up to Flags Page)

- a. Proud of: Well, after talking to the counselor here (Mrs. Bellina), I sort of feel like telling my parents to go screw themselves and doing all this shit I'm charged with--THAT'S something to be proud of.

I used to be proud of my grades and activities, but not now. My parents got a lot of pride out of what I did, and I'd rather they were ashamed of everything in their lives, me included.
- b. Ways client has helped others: I used to help a lot of people through my church. Also friends.
- c. Hardest or scariest parts of client's life: What I've just written about. having my parents as my parents.
- d. Feels helped most by: Here in detention, I like Mrs. Bellina. She doesn't judge me without trying to get to know me and my situation.
- e. Feels hurt/torn down most by: Duh. My parents.
- f. Client's worries: That I'll have to go back home.
- g. Most wishes had not happened: The shitshow between my parents.
- h. Things client most wishes were different today: I don't know. It's all such a mess. I wish I had a different family. I wish my parents would either get help and clean up their act or just kill each other.
- i. Other important or interesting things about client: Jesus, I don't know. That I'd rather be dead than go home?

5. Home and family life (Up to Flags Page)

- a. Lives with: My parents. I hate them both. well, I love them, but I really have come to hate them. I don't respect or trust them, and I don't want them in my life.
- b. Relationship with mother: Poor (0 out of 3) As a mother, she's an addicted piece of garbage. She can't be a mom, and she should stop pretending.
- c. Relationship with father: Poor (0 out of 3) He's a drunk, an adulterer, and a really crappy dad.
- d. Ever lived with (or raised by) an adult other than a parent?: Yes. I didn't live with her, but my Aunt Barb and Uncle Dennis are wonderful people. I wish they would do more to help. I think they would let me live with them, especially if they knew things are 50 times worse than they know.
- e. Methods of discipline/punishment:
 - 1. Having a calm talk with me about how I could do better.
 - 2. Yelling at me.
 - 3. Calling me names.
 - 4. Doing something else. The real punishment is just that I have to be their daughter.
- f. History of neglect or abuse cases in home?: No.
- g. Anyone else think there was a problem in how the client has been treated or raised?: Yes. I think there's something wrong with asking a kid to live in a shitshow.
- h. If it were client's choice, preference on who to live with: My Aunt Barb and Uncle Dennis. They care about their kids and all kids. They don't think what I'm living with is normal.
- i. Ever lived away from family?: Yes. The running away I've told you about. And now I'm in detention.
- j. Any family member ever lived away?: No.

- k. History of legal troubles for any members of the family?: No.
- l. Other things client wants attorney to know about home life?: Yes. You wouldn't put up with it for 5 minutes.
6. Other important relationships (Up to Flags Page)
- a. Other important people in client's life: They look like losers (potheads, dropouts, wanting sex for my staying with them, etc.), but they've helped me.
7. Good things in the client's life (Up to Flags Page)
- a. Regarding 12 possible important childhood assets, the client reported the following:
- Consistently present: None.
- Somewhat present:
1. Other loving and encouraging family. Aunt Barb and Uncle Dennis, but I,m not allowed to see them much because my parents are embarrassed about their own shit.
 2. A financially secure home life—we have had enough money to meet our needs.
 3. A safe neighborhood.
 4. Good friends.
- Missing:
1. A loving and encouraging mother.
 2. A loving and encouraging father.
 3. A family that makes me feel loved.
 4. Parents who have stayed happily together. They've stayed together, but they shouldn't have. except they deserve each other.

 7. A home life that always feels safe.
 8. A family that other kids would be happy to have.
- b. Other assets in client's life?: No.
8. Challenges in the client's childhood (Up to Flags Page)
- a. Family structure:
1. A time I lived with someone other than my parents.
 2. Unsafe or unhealthy people brought into my life. I guess the people I've gone to live with aren't COMPLETELY healthy (pot, no school, no jobs, wanting oral sex and masturbation, etc.). But being with them has been a good thing in many ways.
- b. Sexual abuse (including any sexual touching or contact): None.
- c. Attacked or physically hurt: None.

 5. A family member with another problem. I don't even know how to describe the problems my parents have—except as I've already written.
- g. Feeling responsible for something bad that happened:

1. Feeling that a bad to scary thing was my fault. I've always felt I was supposed to fix the problems between my parents. I used to imagine I'd ask them to create a kind of "Family Court" where everything would be talked out. But I never had the courage to bring it up. Which I feel weak and stupid about.
 2. Feeling that there was something bad or scary I was supposed to have fixed or stopped. All of this shit.
- h. Other issues:
1. Often feeling lonely.
 2. Often feeling different from other kids.
 3. Often feeling I didn't fit in.
 4. Involvement with a gang. It's sort of a gang I've run away to.
 5. I've done really dangerous things that could have ended with my being seriously hurt or killed. I guess unprotected sex is dangerous. That's what some of the guys wanted, and I SORT OF did, I guess. At least I went along with it.
- 9. School/education (Up to Flags Page)
